Health Services

Under health area we have created a mobile application named as " mblood" which was launched on July 10th, 2016 at Chandigarh for Andriod users. The Guest of Honor at the launching was Mr.Arun Sood Mayor of Chandigarh and Mr. Jagdishlal Ahuja social activitist and media coverage was done by Indian express, Dainik Bhaskar, Zee news and The Tribune etc.

This mobile app enables the people in need of blood for medical purposes. People can register on this application as a donor and blood seeker throughout Tricity. So far we have arranged many blood donors for the patients in need of emergency blood requirements.

Apart from this we have a Langar Sewa committee as well, that is organizing langras every month outside hospitals and at places like slum areas whereby the motive is to feed the hungry people to some extent.

Under this our future prospect includes various health and hygiene workshops and seminars and health check up camps at grass root level.

Education and Skill Development

We recently organized art and craft, sports and cultural event for the children form downtrodden section of society in collaboration with Humari Kaksha NGO of sector-7 Chandigarh whereby the coordinator Mr.Sangeeta and the Humari Kaksha Volunteers helped us in organizing this Childrens' day Event on 14th November, The children came up with their talent where we organised poster making competition and sports activities. With this children were able to know their hidden talent. The Guest of Honor at this event was my Professor Mr.Vinod Kumar department of sociology PU.

In future we are planning workshops and seminars better learning and perform better in studies, lectures and workshops on rights and privileges of children etc. Future project includes providing free education to poor children in collaboration with various schools of Tricity. Providing skill development training to the willing and talented poor children who lack economic resources.

Art and Culture

This section deals with imbibing the spirit of art and culture among youth. Enabling the youth knowing their talent and using it as their source of earning a good and better livelihood and also keeping them in touch with the roots of their culture and heritage. This includes organizing various nukard natak (street plays) on awareness related to social issues, Musical concerts on the folk culture and pop culture.

Sustainable Environment

Svabhiman Charitable Trust also spread awareness for clean and safe environment whereby we have organized Tree Plantation event in Chandigarh itself in collaboration with Housing Board Complex Sector-63 Chandigarh where the chief guest was Mr. Sanjay Tondon (BJP Minister) and also with Bhakhra Bias Management Board sector 35 Chandigarh where chief guest was Mr. Satyapal Jain former MP of Chandigarh and at present Sr. adv high court and also Mr. Divesh Modgil Deputy Mayor Chandigarh. Our future prospect is to aware more and more people about safe, lean and green environment so that we may have a safe and sustainable environment to live.

"Skill Development, Good Quality Education, Health and Hygiene, Clean and Sustainable Environment and better Employment opportunities to the underemployed and unemployed youth of the nation at the grass root level etc., are few such problems with which our Nation India is struggling today."
- Tajpreet Vice President, Svabhiman Charitable Trust

By nature, all human being are beautiful creations by the supernatural power or the Almighty God! All human beings are similar irrespective of their caste, class, color, race, sex and gender, religion, region, skills and talent etc. Though by society all are different!! Socially constructed mentality of people makes them different from each other with respect to their caste, class, religion, and region, sex and gender, race etc. The conservative and irrational mentality of society does not let the people to adapt to the changes and so they get confined to their limited horizons of growth and development. This gives rise to the issue of Vicious Circle of Poverty whereby the rich becomes richer and the poor becomes poorer.

Many governmental schemes and policies have been initiated for the overall development and growth of the downtrodden, economically and educationally weaker sections of the society. And all are doing their best in combating the social problems. But whole population can not avail such benefits by government due to lack economic resources and due to illiteracy and ignorance. So such people who are vulnerable and comes under economically and educationally weaker section of society; seek help from various non-profit organizations in order to safeguard their rights and interests. Therefore, many like-minded people from civil society and Corporate Social Responsibility sector have come up in the past few decades who are working for the growth and development of the needy and poor sections of the society in India. Many local, national and international non-profit organizations are performing their role as efficient and effective social workers both at the front and back stage in the civil society.

One such group of like-minded people from Chandigarh also imagined and dream of better India with Self Reliance, Good Education, Better Medical facilities, Health and Hygiene and Skill development at grass-root level. This group of people includes young people from different backgrounds with different profession ranging from private to government sectors. This group of young and talented people belongs to Svabhiman Charitable Trust of Chandigarh origin.

The idea of Svabhiman Charitable Trust was first came up in the mind of its Founder- Mr.Vimal Bharti, who is pursuing his B.Tech , he then shared this idea with his best friend Mr Manish Srivastava. Who is a businessman and Software Engineer by profession. Then both decided to carry forward the idea with spirit of social work. This trust is run by the youth from diverse professional areas like; Academicians, Computer Science, Software and Hardware Engineering, Musicians, Andriod Developers, Theater Artist, Advocates, Businessmen, Immigration Counselor etc.

Svabhiman Charitable Trust is a socio-economic non-profit organization whose prime objective is to empower the downtrodden section of society to that extent where poor and needy people can earn their livelihood and live with dignity. The word Svabhiman in layman's language means Self Respect. Self Respect originally means pride and confidence in oneself and living a life with dignity and self assurance and this can be achieved with Self Reliance. The main objectives and goals of Svabhiman Charitable Trust includes; to eradicate the problem of malnutrition among children at grass root level, to educate the uneducated, to empower the Un-empowered, apart from this the goals of the trust include; providing health and hygiene facilities, to protect and preserve the environment and to develop skills among the youth in order to enable them earn their livelihood and live with dignity.

This trust's future prospects includes; becoming a non-profit mediator between the talented youth from economically and educationally weaker section of society and their desired goals to become skilled worker in order to earn their livelihood with dignity. The Trust wants to help India to become a good place to live with pride and confidence. Our various projects categorize as; Health and Nutrition, Hygiene and Sanitation, Education, Skill Development and Employment, Promote spirit of art and culture among youth, Protect and Preserve Environment.

We pledge to make India a better place to live with dignity and Self Reliance. We appeal the reader also, to come forward and join hands with us in order to bring a positive and productive change in our society.
